MAJOR INITIATIVES IN HEALTH SECTOR

Dr. Ankur Garg

Whether it's USA or UK, health comes in the list of priority issues of every country. In India, this task is even more gigantic, taking into account the scarcity of resources and large population to cater, but still the Government, has taken concrete steps to provide an efficient and meaningful health system to Indians. The government has taken several initiatives in this field.

AYUSH MINISTRY

Ayush stands for Ayurveda, Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha and Homoeopathy. This was started as the Department of Indian System of Medicine & Homoeopathy (ISM&H) in March 1995 under the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare to encourage the ancient Indian medicine systems in today's world. In 2003, it was renamed to its present name AYUSH, under the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare to widen its scope and include Yoga and Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha along with Ayurveda and Homoeopathy.

In 2014, when the new cabinet was being formed, a new ministry was formed altogether as Ayush Ministry, to encourage alternate medicine systems in today's world and decrease the dependency on modern allopathic medicine system or in other words changing the cure of disease approach to prevention of disease approach. This provides the people of India a chance to visit back the old and traditional systems of healthcare in India, which has a strong relevance even in today's world.

AMRIT PHARMACY SCHEME

CAREER IN CYBER SECURITY

Santosh Koshy Joy

The two-letter word 'Digital India' is rightly construed as the ongoing revolution to ensure that public services are made available to every citizen electronically by making the country empowered with cutting-edge digital technology. Digital India necessarily includes three important components and they are, development of secure and stable digital infrastructure, delivering government services digitally, and a drive for universal digital literacy in the country.

One of the most perceivable windfall effect of the ongoing thrust on digitalisation in India is the sudden and considerable high demand for Cyber Security professionals. The demand is so high that government entities and private enterprises are ready to pay very high salaries and provide the best of incentives to the best suited candidates.

Digitalisation has engulfed our everyday lives and every aspect of our life is dependent on it with the digital technology influencing everyone's life. However, some unscrupulous elements have also been using digital technology for unlawful and criminal activities. Importantly, it is not just an individual's life that is under threat due to digital insecurity, the whole of society and even the nation stands the risk of loss and damage without a blanket of foolproof digital security in present times. Organisations are waking up to this reality and corporates are keeping apart a major chunk of their budget for digital security cover. Despite the organisational priority, constraints of efficient work force is a major bottleneck in this endeavour.

The truth is that India is facing a scarcity of cyber security professionals at all levels. The insufficiency of professionals increases exponentially at the leadership level as presently in India there are only a handful of brains who have the experience and know-how to manage a group of cyber experts. Independent estimates put the increase in the salary levels of Cyber Security professionals to around 30 percent in last one year.

What is compelling companies to recruit?

- ◆ Government push asking enterprises to deal digitally has forced organisations to considerably increase their workforce.
- ◆ Demonetisation has made most financial transactions compulsorily go the digital way.
- ◆ Threats of hacking and cyberattacks are imminent and companies are taking no chances.
- ◆ Recruiting better trained Cyber Security brains saves a lot of time and resources for the enterprises ◆ Cyber Security talent in India is rare and companies do not want to be late in recruiting them.

Privileges of a Cyber Security professional:

- ◆ Cyber Security team directly reports to the topmost leadership and are accountable towards the very identity of the firm.
- ◆ There is no limit to the annual compensation for a Cyber Security brain as companies cannot afford to compromise on their digital scrutiny.
- ◆ Flexible work timing and ease of operating remotely.
- ◆ Best minds are revered and merit is the key rather than any other considerations like seniority or organisational policy.
- ◆ Young people have priority and people ready for regular learning opportunities are part of the job profile.

QUIT INDIA MOVEMENT: AN IMPORTANT MILESTONE IN OUR STRUGGLE FOR FREEDOM

WWW.JOBRIYA.COM WWW.JOBRIYA.COM

With the passing of the 'Quit India' Resolution by the All-India Congress Committee session at Bombay on 8 August 1942, the die was cast and to quote Pyarelal, Gandhi's Private Secretary, "the Do or Die era commenced". Early next morning (9th August 1942), Gandhi and the members of the Working Committee were taken into custody under the Defence of India Rules. The detention of the Working Committee members at Ahmednagar Fort was kept a secret while it was made known that Gandhi and his party were confined at Aga Khan Palace, Poona. All Congress Committees were declared unlawful organisations, Congress headquarters at Allahabad sealed up and AICC Funds confiscated. Wholesale arrests of Congressmen began in every province. Ordinances and new Defence of India Rules were issued imposing official control over the publication of news and comments to such an extent that several newspapers preferred to close down as protest. National Herald of Lucknow and Harijan were closed down for the duration of the movement. The first reactions to the arrest of the leaders were, however, 'surprisingly mild'. There were spontaneous hartals throughout the country and meetings were held. Processions were also taken out at some places but the demonstrations were peaceful and non-violent. The ruthless measures adopted by the Government, however, aggravated the situation. The closing of shops and restaurants were forbidden by the new Defence of India Rules. By another addition to the rules the Provincial Governments were empowered to "supersede the local authority in enforcing law and order and for the maintenance of supply of essential services". It was from the 11th August when the Police used force against the processionists, lathi-charged them, and even opened fire to disperse them that the movement took a violent turn. Horace Alexander, of the Friends Service Council, London and a well-known British Journalist, who toured India during the period, corroborates the view that it was "the repression let loose by the police that goaded to violent fury crowds that have intended to act quite peacefully". Gandhi in his letters to Lord Linlithgow (dated 29 January 1943 and 7 February 1943) termed it as 'leonine violence' which "goaded the people to acts of violence". From then onwards apart from the hartals, protest meetings and similar demonstrations that were to be expected, concerted outbreaks of mob violence, arson, in murder and sabotage took place. The areas most affected were those where the Congress had the greatest hold among the masses or where the people had been hard hit by economic crisis aggravated by War. The whole of north Bihar, eastern districts of UP, Madras, Midnapore in Bengal, coastal areas of Orissa, Satara, Khandesh and Broach in Bombay played an important role in the struggle. There was comparatively less trouble in Assam and Sind while the movement in the Panjab and North-Western Frontier Province remained symbolic. In Ballia District in UP, Midnapore in Bengal, Satara in Bombay and in large parts of Bihar people were able to paralyse British administration and set up their government which worked effectively for some time. By the end of August, firm action by the police and the military, to quote the official Report, "Congress Responsibility for the Disturbances, 1942-43", "had largely succeeded in suppressing mass lawlessness except in Assam" where the trouble had started rather late. The first phase of the movement seemed to have been over by the second week of September when some sort of order was restored in most of the disturbed areas except the eastern provinces. The movement went underground and concentrated attacks of a planned nature were made on communications, Government buildings and institutions. Soon the bombs made their appearance in Bombay, Central Provinces and UP. They were at first crude and ineffective but "technical improvement was rapid and by the 12th week of the movement, bombs and other explosive mechanism, some highly dangerous types, were in use on a fairly extensive scale particularly in Bombay". The movement had spent its fury by the end of the year though sporadic incidents continued to take place till the release of Gandhi in May 1944.

The Government used the most stringent measures to suppress the movement. "The disturbances" stated Winston Churchill, the then British Prime Minister, in the House of Commons (10th September 1942) "were crushed with all the weight of the Government...large reinforcements have reached India and the number of white soldiers now in that country although very small compared to its size and population are larger than at any time in the British connection". Hundreds of persons were arrested and imprisoned, a large number were killed chiefly by the firing of the military and the police. Insult, indignity, injury and even assault was meted out in complete disregard of the position and status of the persons concerned. Whipping was inflicted on many and heavy collective fines or as K.C. Neogy, a member of the Central Assembly called it, 'communal' fines were imposed in many areas. The total fines, according to official sources, amounted to over Rs. 90 lakhs, the bulk of which were promptly realized from Hindus. Linlithgow, the Viceroy, specifically asked the Governor of Bihar, T. Stewart "to desist altogether from realizing fines from Muslims". Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, President, All India Liberal Federation, criticized this communal imposition of collective fines. "Collective fines are being realized from Hindus, I do not know on what principles", said Sir Tej Bahadur. He asked an English friend, "if you distrust Hindus so much that you cannot discriminate between wreckers and friends, why not hand over all political power to Jinnah". Several members of the Central Assembly made a demand for the setting up of a commission having a majority of non-official members to inquire into the excesses committed by the military and police on the people. K.C. Neogy listed the charges against the administration, as "general pillage and arson and wanton damage to property by the police and the military, shooting at random in places not affected by any hooliganism just for the purpose of creating an impression, random shooting of innocent persons when hooligans had already left, assault or shooting of non-violent crowds or individuals, merciless assaults, particularly whipping and insults and indignities on all and sundry". There was even machine-gunning of the mobs from air at five places- Patna, Bhagalpur and Monghyr in Bihar, Nadia in Bengal and Talchar city. As early as 15 August 1942, the Viceroy informed the Secretary of State that he had authorised machine-gunning from air of saboteurs in Bihar and would have to resort to this weapon in other areas also, if need be. But these measures were to be kept out of statements to the Press. And Churchill boastfully said that "what was at one time feared would become the most serious rebellion in India since the Sepoy Mutiny of 1857 fizzled out in a few months with hardly any loss of life". Evidently he meant loss of British life. It is very difficult to note with strict accuracy the exact number of persons condemned to these cruel punishments or to death as martyrs for the cause of freedom. The official records are neither complete nor accurate. A few other sources also mention some figures which are also not reliable. The civilian casualties from August to December, according to official figures, were 1040 killed and many more injured. This is obviously an under-estimate considering the number of firings by police and military, officially recorded as 669 besides machine-gunning of the mobs from air. According to Jawaharlal Nehru, the figures of the dead might vary between 4,000 and 10,000 which at best could only be a guess. Over 150,000 persons had been arrested upto the end of 1943. The cost of damage was officially estimated at about Rs. 30 lakhs.

As a protest against the Government's policy, many Indians renounced their titles. Included in them was Premier Allah Baksh of Sind who was promptly dismissed by the Governor for "his recent renunciation of honours". A little later (17th February 1943) three members of the Viceroy's Executive Council, H.P. Modi, N.R. Sarkar and M.S. Aney resigned from the Viceroy's Executive Council on "a fundamental issue" namely Gandhi's fast. Some of the European officers also had to suffer for their sympathetic attitude towards the Congress. Sir Arthur Moore, Editor of the Statesman, who wrote several articles criticizing the policy of Lord Linlithgow and to a lesser extent of L.S. Amery, the then Secretary of State, had to resign under pressure. E. P. Moon, an ICS officer of the Panjab, had to sail home pensionless as he had made critical comments on the detention of a distinguished Indian lady in an inferior class, in a private letter to the lady's brother which was intercepted in internal censorship. Sir Thomas Stewart, Governor of Bihar, had taken disciplinary action against certain officers who in his opinion, had exceeded their authority. He had to resign on alleged grounds of health, a few months later.

NATIONAL PHARMACEUTICAL PRICING AUTHORITY

National Pharmaceutical Pricing Authority (NPPA) has put the capping on the price of various drug formulations and medical devices and implants, limiting the profit made by manufacturing companies and private healthcare players and giving relief to the masses. Cardiac stents and knee implants are the major implants whose price were capped, making them in reach of poor and deprived sections of the society.

NATIONAL HEALTH PORTAL

In 2015, Govt. of India, launched the E - Health scheme, under which the Digital India Mission was taken forward and a National Health Portal was started. The National Health Portal aims to establish a single point access for authenticated health information for citizens, students, healthcare professionals and researchers. Users can get detailed information pertaining to health related issues. One can find information related to diseases, health services, tips for healthy living, health programmes, insurance schemes, health apps and widgets. Users can also get helpline numbers, blood banks details, etc.

Various online Services and apps like Online Registration System, Mera Aspatal and e-RaktKosh, were started for people of India. The purpose of these apps is to smoothen the way healthcare system works. Now a person can register him/her with various hospitals and book an appointment from his/her home without actually standing in long queues. One can check about the availability of blood products in various blood banks without running from one hospital to other.

NEW HEALTH POLICY (NHP)

In January 2015 govt. formed the New Health Policy, 13 years after the National Health Policy of 2002. National Health Policy is a declaration of the determination of the Government to leverage economic growth to achieve health outcomes and an explicit acknowledgement that better health contributes immensely to improved productivity as well as to equity.

MISSION INDERDHANUSH

This is a health mission of Govt. of India launched by GOI on 25 December 2014. The aim of this mission is to immunize all children under the age of 2 years, as well as all pregnant women, against seven preventable diseases. The diseases initially targeted were Diphtheria, Pertussis, Tetanus, Poliomyelitis, Tuberculosis, Measles, and Hepatitis B. In 2016, four new additions were made to this list namely Rubella, Japanese Encephalitis, Injectable Polio Vaccine Bivalent and Rotavirus. In 2017 further addition were made to include Pneumonia by adding Pneumococcal conjugate vaccine.

Also GOI is introducing "Intensified Mission Inderdhanush (IMI)" in select districts and urban areas of country to achieve the target of more than 90% coverage.

NEW CENTRAL HOSPITALS AND UPGRADATION OF EXISTING ONES

Central Govt. is opening new institutes like AIIMS and promoting State Govt.'s to open new institutes for upgradation of treatment facilities as well as increasing the no. of undergraduate and post graduate seats to increase the workforce of health care providers in the country. In Phase IV of PMSSY (Pradhan Mantri Swasthya Suraksha Yojana) 4 new AIIMS were announced in Mangalagiri, Nagpur, Gorakhpur and Kalyani. In phase V of PMSSY 6 new AIIMS were announced one each in Assam, Himachal Pradesh, Jammu & Kashmir, Punjab, Tamil Nadu, and Bihar. PM has announced setting up of total two AIIMS in capital cities of Jammu & Kashmir, a part of Prime Minister Development Package for Jammu & Kashmir. (<http://pmssy-mohfw.nic.in/listofcolleges.aspx>)

AYUSHMAN BHARAT - NATIONAL HEALTH PROTECTION SCHEME (AB-NHPM)

In the General Budget 2018-19, Government of India, announced its flagship programme, Ayushman Bharat, which happens to be the world's largest government funded health care programme. People have termed this even as 'MODI CARE'.

Ayushman Bharat - National Health Protection Scheme (AB-NHPM), will cover over 10.74 crore poor and vulnerable families (approximately 50 crore beneficiaries) providing coverage upto 5 lakh rupees per family per year for secondary and tertiary care hospitalization. The vision behind this, is to go for path breaking interventions to address health holistically, in primary, secondary and tertiary care systems, covering both prevention and health promotion.

BENEFITS TO MASSES

This will target poor, deprived rural families and identified occupational category of urban workers' families as per the latest Socio-Economic Caste Census(SECC) data covering both rural and urban. In this Scheme, there is no capping on family member count as compared to previous schemes like Rashtriya Swasthya Bima Yojana (RSBY) which provides cashless health insurance scheme with benefit coverage of Rs. 30,000/- per annum on a family floater basis [for 5 members], for Below Poverty Line (BPL) families, and 11 other defined categories of unorganised workers. This scheme is designed to be dynamic and aspirational and it would take into account any future changes in the exclusion/ inclusion/ deprivation/ occupational criteria in the SECC data. Benefits of the scheme are portable across the country and a beneficiary covered under the scheme will be allowed to take cashless benefits from any public/private empanelled hospitals across the country.

IMPLEMENTATION STRUCTURE

One of the core principles of Ayushman Bharat - National Health Protection Mission is co-operative federalism and flexibility to states. Following this, it is proposed to set up Ayushman Bharat National Health Protection Mission Council (AB-NHPMC) at apex level chaired by Union Health and Family Welfare Minister, for giving policy directions and fostering coordination between Centre and States. States would need to have State Health Agency (SHA) to implement the scheme. They can either use an existing Trust/ Society/ Not for Profit Company/ State Nodal Agency (SNA) or set up a new entity to implement the scheme. UTs can also decide to implement the scheme through an insurance company or directly through the Trust/ Society or use an integrated model.

EXPENDITURE INVOLVED

The expenditure incurred in premium payment will be shared between Central and State Governments in specified ratio as per Ministry of Finance guidelines. The total expenditure will depend on actual market determined premium paid in States/ UTs where AB-NHPM will be implemented through insurance companies. In States/ UTs where the scheme will be implemented in Trust/ Society mode, the central share of funds will be provided based on actual expenditure or premium ceiling (whichever is lower) in the pre-determined ratio. This will subsume the on-going centrally sponsored schemes - Rashtriya Swasthya Bima Yojana(RSBY) and the Senior Citizen Health Insurance Scheme(SCHIS).

Also to control costs, the payments for treatment will be done on package rate (to be defined by the Government in advance) basis. The package rates will include all the costs associated with treatment. For beneficiaries, it will be a cashless, paper less transaction. Keeping in view the State specific requirements, States/ UTs will have the flexibility to modify these rates within a limited bandwidth.

IMPACT OF SCHEME

In-patient hospitalization expenditure in India has increased nearly 300% during last ten years. (NSSO 2015). More than 80% of the expenditure is met by out of pocket (OOP). Rural households primarily depended on their 'household income / savings' (68%) and on 'borrowings' (25%), the urban households relied much more on their 'income / saving' (75%) for financing expenditure on hospitalizations, and on '(18%) borrowings. (NSSO 2015). Out of pocket (OOP) expenditure in India is over 60% which leads to nearly 6 million families getting into poverty due to catastrophic health expenditures. AB-NHPM will have major impact on reduction of Out Of Pocket (OOP) expenditure.

This will lead to increased access to quality health and medication. In addition, the unmet needs of the population which remained hidden due to lack of financial resources will be catered to. This will lead to timely treatments, improvements in health outcomes, patient satisfaction, improvement in productivity and efficiency and job creation thus leading to improvement in quality of life.

SWACHH BHARAT

On 2nd October 2014, govt. launched Swachh Bharat program to eradicate the open defecation practice from the country and promote cleanliness. Open defecation is the root cause for a number of communicable diseases like diarrhea, dysentery, Typhoid, paratyphoid, Hepatitis and Cholera, among the common ones.

INTERNATIONAL YOGA DAY

Going with the same spirit, to uplift the mental and physical wellness of people, YOGA was promoted with full enthusiasm and with the efforts of Indian government. In a rare sequence of events, with 177 nations as co-sponsors, out of 193 member states, the United Nations declared June 21 as International Yoga Day, accepting the soft intellectual power of ancient healthcare systems of India.

Thus, the Govt. is taking concrete steps to realize the dream our Prime Minister has for the country. As he has said "Sankalp Se Siddhi Tak" these are the steps in the direction of Health For All. These are in line with our dream of NEW INDIA - Ek Bharat, Shrestha Bharat, Swachh Bharat, Swasth Bharat. One can hope that effective and meaningful health care will reach to the masses.

Publications Division organizes workshop for rural children on 'Azadi meri nazar mein'

As part of its outreach activities to disseminate information and awareness about India's struggle for Independence, Publications Division organized a workshop on 24th July, 2018 at Jawahar Bal Bhawan, Mandi- a village on the outskirts of Delhi. Supported by Bal Bhawan (under the control of Ministry of HRD, Govt. of India), the workshop motivated village children to hone their creative skills. Around 40 children wrote poems, slogans, small articles on the theme of 'Azadi meri nazar mein' (what I think about freedom).

Following the workshop, these children were invited in a function organized at Publications Division's Book Gallery at Sochna Bhawan, New Delhi on 26th July, 2018, where they presented their writings. Besides, the children also presented a small play on the theme of rights and duties of the citizens. Publications Division also presented gifts of books to the children.

The workshop and the programme at Sochna Bhawan were conceived and designed by Ms. Madhu Pant, well known children's writer and communicator and former Director, Bal Bhawan. The whole exercise was supported by Ms. Indrani Chaudhary, Deputy Director, Bal Bhawan, Mandi. Editor, Bal Bharti, Publications Division coordinated the entire exercise. The programme at Sochna Bhawan was well attended by children, staff and the officers of Publications Division.

CAREER IN...

Job profile of a Cyber Security expert:

A Cyber Security professional is expected to perform varied kind of duties like ethical hacking into an organisation's digital interface and IT network to find out what security loopholes exist and suggest ways to fix them at the earliest possible time. He is expected to carve out a security policy of an organisation and even manage a team to remote manage a security product for the organisation like firewall. The expert is incharge of the security audit and when required he is also the person who has to perform the clinical investigation of IT related crimes and frauds. The person is also responsible for digital training and capacity building of the organisation.

Some of the job profiles in the field include- information risk auditors, firewall and security device development professionals, security analysts, intrusion detection specialists, computer security incident responders, cryptologists, vulnerability assessors, lead security architects, chief information security managers, cyber security consultant, digital forensics expert, SOC engineer, ethical hacker, threat management specialist, malware analyst, threat analysis manager etc.

The entry level role as an Information Security Executive would include role of correlating broad security guidelines of the organisation with security operations. The middle level Manager profile may have role of security program management, data security and disaster recovery. Senior and top level Manager position requires to play the role of design and development of information security policy and ensure regulatory compliance along with information security governance. The top level in this paradigm of career also have the role to justify the cost of ongoing and future investments to mitigate information risks as well as to align business objectives with a concise security strategy.

Competency requirements:

An entry to the Cyber Security is possible for a simple graduate with basic knowledge of IT but software engineers have preference. Apart from computer basics, Cyber Security field essentially requires knowledge of networking and an idea of the mind of the hacker or the force which is trying to jeopardise the system. Value addition to one's resume with some additional courses is always advised in this field. It is recommended that one does a reputed certificate program and not be taken for a ride by the fly-by-night operators without credentials. Few of the popular courses which are sort of sure shot capacity building modules for the aspiring Cyber Security professional are:

- ♦ CISA (Certified Information System Auditor)
- ♦ CISM (Certified Information Security Management)
- ♦ CISSP (Certified Information Systems Security Professionals)
- ♦ CCSP (Cisco Certified Security Professional)
- ♦ MCSE (Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer)

If you made up your mind to grow and make it big to learn and grow in the field of Cyber Security, it is always advisable to back up the courses and qualifications with practical training and apprenticeship. Learning things practically in the company of a good team is key to the growth and development in the field. Even when you are choosing an institution for training, make sure to check if it has a practical learning provision as part of the training.

With the everyday occurrence of data leaks, widespread attacks on digital infrastructure and privacy breaches, the career in Cyber Security is here to stay and grow higher with every passing day. Self updating and a keen interest in evolving technology is paramount for growth.

National

The No Confidence Motion brought by opposition fell flat on July 20, 2018. The motion was defeated by more than 2/3rd margin. The ruling coalition got 325 votes, while opposition could only manage 126 votes. The no-confidence motion was introduced by the TDP against the government demanding Special Status Category to the Andhra Pradesh. In his over 90-minute address in the House, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi said that any instance of violence brings shame to the nation, in a reference to incidents of mob lynchings and assault on women raised by opposition parties. Taking on the opposition over its criticism of his government on employment front, he accused it of spreading baseless information and claimed that nearly one crore people have got employment in 2017-18. Citing Employment Provident Fund figures, he said 50 lakh people have got job in the formal sector in nine months. He said the transport business alone has created 20 lakh jobs in the informal sector.

Human Resources Development Minister Shri Prakash Javadekar said lack in innovation and quality research is the foremost challenge for the country. Chairing a three day National Conference of Vice-chancellors and Directors in New Delhi, the Minister said, quality expansion and teaching reform is the need of the hour. Further, he emphasized on creating a positive and lively environment to enhance the quality of education in all central and private universities. He said, it is time to show India's prowess to the world in the field of education.
