ATAL BIHARI VAJPAYEE & HIS MODEL OF GOOD GOVERNANCE

Dr. Vivek Kumar Mishra

Bharat Ratna Atal Bihari Vajpayee, was undoubtedly one of the most prominent and widely accepted leaders of our country who breathed his last on August 16th, 2018. An outstanding orator, born on 25th December 1924 in Gwalior, he saw India grow to new heights in his own life time. He earned the reverence of one and all because of his outstanding skills in the field of politics, prose and poetry.

The world has produced many tall leaders who got respect from the society, but very few received respect even from their critics, and Atal Bihari Vajpayee was one of them. Vajpayee ji served as Prime Minister of India three times, once only for 13 days in 1996, and again for 11 months in 1998, thereafter he served one full term, during 1999-2004. Atal Ji served as a Member of Parliament in Lok Sabha for ten times and elected to Rajya Sabha twice in his political career. He created history by becoming the first non-Congress Prime Minister of India to serve a full-term. He was conferred India's highest civilian honour

Bharat Ratna in 2015.

Atal Ji was a devoted 'swayamsevak' of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS), a unique social organization dedicated to India's resurgence. Regarding his association with RSS, Atal ji once prominently said in the United States that "he may not be the Prime Minister tomorrow, but nobody could take away his right of being a swayamsevak." He wrote about the RSS, "the RSS does not change only individuals, rather it changes the collective mind. This is the beauty of the RSS ethos. In our spiritual tradition an individual can attain great heights." He was a firm believer of Hindutva ideology. He was founding father of Bhartiya Janata Party. He imbibed his values and strong traditions of national service from Dr. Syama Prasad Mookerjee and Pandit Deen Dayal Upadhyay. As a member of Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh, Atal Bihari Vajpayee was already politically active by the age of 16. In 1951, he started working for Bharatiya Jana Sangh, a political wing of RSS.

Good Governance Day

Atal Bihari Vajpayee was a leader who laid the foundation of good governance by linking politics to values and Indian traditions. Atal ji's, 90th birthday was declared as 'Good Governance Day' by present Prime Minister Narendra Modi in the year 2014. Prime Minister Modi decided to follow the path of Vajpayee ji through commitment towards providing transparent, effective and accountable governance to the people of India. I feel it is a great honour for the people of India to celebrate good governance day annually on the birth anniversary of Atal Bihari Vajpayee ji.

Good Governance means a government based on

EMPOWERING CONSUMERS AS INDIA CELEBRATES THE NATIONAL CONSUMER RIGHTS DAY

Dr. Sheetal Kapoor

The Consumer Protection Act, 1986, is a socio-economic legislation to protect and promote the interests of consumers in a unified and effective manner. Consumer Protection Act on one hand is a weapon in the hands of consumers to fight against the exploitation by the sellers, manufacturers and traders related to defective goods, deficiency in service, restrictive and unfair trade practices. The CPA, empowers consumers to make informed choices; ensures fair, equitable and consistent outcomes for consumers; and facilitates timely and effective consumer grievance redress. It is the only Act which provides compensation to the Indian consumer and has a three-tier grievance redressal structure at the District, State and National level known as, Consumer Forums, where the disposal rate as on 1st Jan 2018 was 91%.

In India, there are large number of laws which have provisions for protecting consumers, but the consumer movement gained impetus in India after the enactment of the Consumer Protection Act, 1986. 24th December is a landmark day in the history of consumer movement in India as on this day the Consumer Protection Act, 1986 came into existence. On this day the Consumer Protection Bill finally became an Act in 1986, after the assent from the President of India. The Consumer Protection Act, protects the interests of the consumers against substandard products, increased prices through market manipulation, failed warranties, poor after sales service and unfair trade practices. Thus, 24th December is observed as National Consumer Day in India.

Changing Indian Buying Behaviour

Over the past ten years Indian business environment has undergone a drastic change. With the rapid development of digital technologies and the increasing penetration of e-business, smart phones, cloud and internet there is a change in how the Indian consumers are buying products. Internet mainly the World Wide Web (www) as an electronic medium of exchange and mobile phones have given rise to a de-territorial virtual market place development orientation, transparency and early and easy deliverance of services. Prime Minister Modi stated that "Good governance day on the birthday of our beloved leader, Atal Bihari Vajpayee, we reiterate our commitment towards providing transparent, effective and accountable governance to the people of this country." He also stated that "during his tenure, Atal ji's efficiency in dealing with various issues has proven very beneficial for nation." That is why Prime Minister Modi has taken the decision to have his birthday celebrated as 'Good Governance Day'.

The purpose for observing Atal ji birthday as Good Governance Day is as under:

- ♦ Building transparent and responsible administration.
- ♦ Ensuring the welfare of common man
- ♦ Devising good and effective policies for good governance
- ♦ To give a corruption free administration to the people
- ♦ To make people aware about the government commitment for providing a transparent and accountable administration in the country
- ♦ To enhance the growth and development in the country.
- ♦ To bring citizens closer to the government to make them active participants in the governance process.

Atal Bihari Vajpayee strived for all above mentioned purposes throughout his tenure as Prime Minister. Observing a Good Governance Day at his birthday will be testimony of his lifelong service. Moreover, observing Good Governance Day will continuously remind of the Indian government that the ruling party should be impartial, development oriented and development should cover all the sectors of the society for whom Vajpayee devoted his life.

Vajpayee on Economic Governance

During his tenure, Vajpayee ji gave prominence to programmes aimed at the country's development, rather than serving petty political interests. The basic idea of good governance was put forwarded by Vajpayee in his address at Asia Society in New York on September 7, 2000. He stated that "empowering the individual means empowering the nation, and empowerment is best served through rapid economic growth with rapid social change." Indeed, these words reflected in his contribution towards the country. He not only improved the economy of India but also introduced several social reforms to uplift the unprivileged section of the society. During Vajpayee Government, India experienced one of its fastest periods of economic growth. India became an emerging power in Information Technology due to the reform programmes executed under his able and visionary guidance. Vajpayee ji's firmly believed that every region, every community and every citizen of our country should enjoy the fruits of India's prosperity and progress. He launched the Antyodaya Anna scheme to provide cheaper subsidized food grains to the poor, and expressed his commitment to the common man.

Atal ji's most memorable achievement was the ambitious roads projects he launched - the 'Golden Quadrilateral' and the 'Pradhanmantri Gramin Sadak Yojana.' The Golden Quadrilateral connected Chennai, Kolkata, Delhi and Mumbai through a network of highways while the Pradhanmantri Gramin Sadak Yojana was planned as a network of all-weather roads for unconnected village. Golden Quadrilateral was completed within a period of 5 years. The road construction reached 11 km of highways per day. The "Delhi Metro" project was launched by Vajpayee ji in 2002.

Vajpayee ji took India to the new heights by introducing economic reforms. Under his tenure from 1998 to 2004, India maintained a GDP rate of eight per cent, the inflation level within four per cent and foreign exchange reserves were flourishing. Atal ji's commitment to reducing the government role in running businesses and industry was reflected in his commitment to reducing the government role in running businesses and industry was reflected in the formation of a separate disinvestment ministry. The most important disinvestments were Bharat Aluminium Company (BALCO) and Hindustan Zinc, Indian Petrochemicals Corporation Limited and VSNL. The Vajpayee government made another radical reform by introducing the Fiscal Responsibility Act that aimed to bring down fiscal deficit.

Vajpayee on Telecom Revolution

Vajpayee government's 'New Telecom Policy' unleashed the telecom revolution in India by replacing fixed license fees for telecom firms with a revenue-sharing arrangement. Bharat Sanchar Nigam Ltd (BSNL) was created to separate policy formulation and provision of service. The creation of the Telecom Dispute Settlement Appellate Tribunal also separated the government's regulatory and dispute settlement roles. The government ended the monopoly of Videsh Sanchar Nigam Ltd's on international telephony. Prime Minister Vajpayee stressed on telephonic and internet connectivity in the nation. It was Atal Ji who prepared the foundations of an India that is ready to take on the mantle of global leadership in the 21st century. The futuristic economic policies and reforms of his Government ensured prosperity for several Indians. His thrust on next-generation infrastructure particularly roads and telecom contributed to our "Economic reforms and development planning are without meaning if the poor and marginalised are not enabled to better their lives. This calls for action on many fronts. A jungle of laws, in particular municipal, police, and forest laws, many of which have not been reformed since many decades, render numerous legitimate occupations of the poor illegal. While microfinance modes of lending have been shown to be fully viable, the commercial banking system has yet to mainstream microfinance lending to the poor. The Small Scale Industry (SSI) Sector, which has unequalled employment potential, faces a number of challenges, including availability of credit, technical and marketing support, and realising its comparative advantage in the context of globalisation. These are some of the directions in which serious-reform is necessary."

"Urbanisation is an irreversible process. Accordingly, conditions of living in our towns and cities must improve. This will require reforms in municipal fiscal practices to enable raising of resources from financial institutions and user fees for municipal services. The flow of Plan resources to municipalities and States should help to leverage such reforms."

"Governance Reforms, with Special Reference to e-governance - A central message of the Tenth Plan, which has been echoed by a number of Chief Ministers, is the imperative of Governance Reforms to speed up India's all-round development. Our experience has shown that adequate resources are not enough, and that the best policies and programmes can flounder on the rocks of poor governance and implementation. We need to bring about dramatic improvements in the functioning of our administrative, judicial and internal security systems in order to foster a dynamic and vibrant market economy. It is an issue that concerns us all. Since it is not possible to have different institutional structures in different parts of the country, I propose that we constitute a Sub-Committee of the NDC on Governance-Reforms to go into this matter in detail and present a set of proposals to the NDC, which we can adopt uniformly.

E-Governance, which can contribute significantly to better governance, is a major thrust of the Tenth Plan. I congratulate those States and Central Government Departments, which have already launched major initiatives in this respect. I am heartened by the fact that the judiciary has also recognised the need for and scope of e-governance for speeding up the judicial processes. I urge all concerned to implement this strategy.

country's economic as well as social empowerment.

Vajpayee as a Dedicated Democrat

Atal Bihari Vajpayee was a dedicated democrat who governed by the rules of democracy and allowed its institutions to play their role, too. Addressing the nation after the National Democratic Alliance's defeat in 2004, he said, "my party and alliance may have lost but India and India's democracy have won." That is an appropriate epitaph to be inscribed on a memorial to a true democrat. As a Prime Minister, he demonstrated that it was not strong government that India needed but good governance- governance by the rules of democracy.

and the sales in the business - to - consumer segment has been increasing manifold over the past few years. Use of smartphones is the game changer in the digital market in India and one out of three customers currently makes transactions using mobiles. A study by ASSOCHAM reports that in 2017 there has been a large-scale growth in the Indian e-business sector and the number of consumers by promoting a climate of fair competition and preventing exploitation of consumers.

The Union Government on 20.12.2017 approved the introduction of the New Consumer Protection Bill, in Parliament to protect the interest of consumers by strengthening the existing Act, faster redressal of consumer grievances, empowering consumers, especially online and protecting vulnerable and economically disadvantaged

- (e) To facilitate the development of independent consumer groups.
- (f) To further international cooperation in the field of consumer protection.
- (g) To encourage the development of market conditions which provide consumers with greater choice at lower prices.
- (h) To promote sustainable consumption.

Principles for good business practices under UNGCP

The principles that consumers who bought online have reached to 100 million and the e-retail market would jump 65% in 2018. A Marketing Research firm eMarketer has reported that the online retail sales in India is expected to grow by 31% in 2018 and going to touch $32.7 Billion. Increasing internet and mobile penetration, growing acceptability of digital payments and favourable demographics have provided the unique opportunity for consumers to shop online 24 hours a day and also track the delivery status of their purchases. But shopping online sometimes poses problems related to cross-border transactions, risks of poor quality and unsafe products, predatory prices, exploitative and unfair trade practices.

The Indian economy presently is growing at 7 per cent and many flagship schemes such as, JagoGrahakJago, Jan Dhan Yojana, RERA, GST, Aadhar, Hallmarking have been launched by the government to make consumers aware about their consumer rights in order to avoid being duped by the malpractices of businesses. The consumer movement exercises a considerable influence on the socio-economic environment of business. In a country like India where there is a high percentage of illiteracy among people, where people are less informed and where critical goods are always in short supply, the Government has a significant role in safeguarding the interests of consumers. The New Consumer Protection Bill, 2018 was introduced in Lok Sabha on 5th January 2018 to keep pace with the ongoing changes in the market.

UN Guidelines for Consumer Protection

The United Nations Guidelines for Consumer Protection, 2016 emphasise that all member countries should ensure more effective and better-coordinated protection efforts in all countries and across all areas of commerce. Further protection of consumers' rights in the digital context are a key for a sustainable and inclusive development of e-commerce and it also lays down guidelines related to data security and privacy. The United Nations guidelines for consumer protection have the following objectives:

- (a) To assist countries in achieving or maintaining adequate protection for their population as consumers.
- (b) To facilitate production and distribution patterns responsive to the needs and desires of consumers.
- (c) To encourage high levels of ethical conduct for those engaged in the production and distribution of goods and services to consumers.
- (d) To assist countries in curbing abusive business practices by all enterprises at the national and international levels which adversely affect consumers.

establish benchmarks for good business practices for conducting online and offline commercial activities with consumers are as follows:

- (a) Fair and equitable treatment. Businesses should deal fairly and honestly with consumers at all stages of their relationship, so that it is an integral part of the business culture. Businesses should avoid practices that harm consumers, particularly with respect to vulnerable and disadvantaged consumers.
- (b) Commercial behaviour. Businesses should not subject consumers to illegal, unethical, discriminatory or deceptive practices, such as abusive marketing tactics, abusive debt collection or other improper behaviour that may pose unnecessary risks or harm consumers. Businesses and their authorized agents should have due regard for the interests of consumers and responsibility for upholding consumer protection as an objective.
- (c) Disclosure and transparency. Businesses should provide complete, accurate and not misleading information regarding the goods and services, terms, conditions, applicable fees and final costs to enable consumers to take informed decisions. Businesses should

Vajpayee model of Governance can be described as a government that changed India's economic and political scenario. The greatness of his leadership was always nation centric and focused on the welfare of the people. Vajpayee Ji had set a role model for good governance. It was always participatory, consensus oriented, transparent, responsive, effective and efficient. It was also equitable and inclusive and followed the rules of law. It is also responsive to the present and future needs of society.

Vajpayee's unquenchable patriotism and love for his motherland are the stuff that spawns legends. He wears Bhartiya on his sleeve, and proclaims proudly to the world that he is the inheritor of a great ancient civilization. Bhartiya vision of thinking is based on the tradition of Vedas, saints and sages who have given India, the spiritual sustenance and cultural moorings that anchor its existence. Vajpayee ji has indeed shown his character to be one of totally transparent integrity. His principles universally acknowledged to be based in equity and justice. His sense of judgment affirms itself in his willingness to sacrifice power for the sake of ethics.

Vajpayee ji was firm in his political beliefs, but always accommodated and respected of other points of view, he set the standards of debate in Parliament. In his simplicity and integrity, in his dignity and empathy, and a sense of personal non-attachment to the office, he became an inspiration for youths.

Other key Milestones in Atal Ji Political Journey

- Atal Bihari Vajpayee became a Union Minister in 1977 when Morarji Desai-led Janata Party coalition came to power for the first time. He became the Minister of External Affairs. As Foreign Minister, Vajpayee became the first person to deliver a speech at the United Nations General Assembly in Hindi.
- The efforts of Atal ji ensured India to become a nuclear weapon state and he attributed the Pokhran tests of 11th May 1998. Atal Bihari Vajpayee Ji established India pride and changed India's place in the world.
- Atal ji passed the Chandrayan-1 project on India's 56th Independence Day. This gave a major thrust to Indian space mission. Vajpayee ji stated, "Our country is now ready to fly high in the field of science. I am pleased to announce that India will send her own spacecraft to the moon by 2008. It is being named Chandrayaan. www.Jobriya.com

Prime Minister Modi on Good Governance

Like Atal Bihari Vajpayee, present Prime Minister Narendra Modi also started his career as a RSS activist. It is a great virtue of Indian democracy that both become Prime Ministers of this country. Both come from same background and same ideology. Prime Minister Modi undertook carrying forward Vajpayee's legacy. Like Vajpayee ji, Modi believes in democracy, those who govern are not rulers, they are servants. He calls himself the people's "pradhan sewak", not "pradhan mantri". Like Vajpayee, for Modi, "good governance is putting people at the centre of development", but corruption and black money have become impediments to good governance. They have exploited the citizen's rights. Hence, Modi has declared a war on these issues through various measures like demonetization.

Good governance rests on the responsibility of government to meet the needs of the people. Even the most vulnerable sections of society should have an equal stake in charting the country's growth. It's about transparency, efficiency and responsiveness- it's about a clean government, free of corruption. An important step for Good Governance is simplification of procedures and processes in the Government so as to make the entire system transparent and faster. In this regard Prime Minister Modi has taken various initiatives like Digital India, MyGov.in, Jeevan Pramaan, e-Bhasha, e-Sampark, e-Greetings, GST and implemented others policy initiatives which have been recently undertaken by the Modi Government to further the cause of Good Governance in the country. The core idea behind the launch of any such initiative is that technology should be used as a tool to bridge the gap between the government and the citizens. The Digital India programme aims to transform the country into a digitally empowered society and knowledge economy. Digital India is transform-ational in nature and would ensure that Government services are available to citizens electronically.

Good governance means improving the performance of public enterprises by giving them managerial autonomy to take decisions on commercial principles. In this context like Vajpayee ji, Prime Minister Modi mentioned about the turn-around in the performance of public airlines, Air India, and public telecom, Bharat Sanchar Nigam limited and Shipping Corporation of India. Similarly, for Indian Post offices that has become irrelevant due to the spread of information technology especially social media. The Government is taking steps to convert post offices into payment banks.

As part of good governance, Prime Minister Modi outlined linking the Jan Dhan Yojana bank accounts with Aadhar cards. Direct benefits transfer, digital or electronic payments, heading towards a less cash system, is all part of good governance. The idea is to root out corruption by middlemen and facilitate convenient payments and receipts. Prime Minister Modi has expanded the good governance path laid out by Vajpayee.

Conclusion

Atal Bihari Vajpayee Ji was a supporter of Hindutva and a man of values and ethos, who decried the divisive ideology of sections of politicians. He had a vision for the country and sought its rightful place in the comity of nations. Vajpayee ji was a great statesman, great leader, the like which India has not seen in recent years. And he was a great Prime Minister and truly the voice of India, the voice, which was rational, reasonable, and full of humour and a voice which did not hurt anyone. Finally, assist consumers to develop the knowledge and skills necessary to understand risks, including financial risks, to take informed decisions and to access competent and professional advice and assistance, preferably independent when needed.

Atal Bihari Vajpayee was a man who gave real power to Bharat, a mind which made fearless decisions, a character which showcases the meaning of patriotism.

- (e) Clear and timely information regarding the goods or services offered by businesses and the terms and conditions of the relevant transaction.
- (f) Clear, concise and easy to understand contract terms that are not unfair.
- (g) A transparent process for the confirmation, cancellation, return and refund of transactions.
- (h) Secure payment mechanisms.
- (i) Fair, affordable and speedy redressal mechanisms.
- (j) Consumer privacy and data security.
- (i) Consumer and business education.

Member countries of UNGCP should work towards ensuring that consumer protection enforcement agencies have the necessary human and financial resources to promote effective compliance and to obtain or facilitate redress for consumers in appropriate cases.

Consumer Protection Bill 2018

A comprehensive up gradation of the existing Consumer Protection Act, 1986, by way of introduction of a new Bill is currently under consideration of the Parliament, aimed at making the consumer law more effective, functional and purposeful. Salient features of the Bill include:

- (a) The definition of

'Consumer' would include both offline and online consumers. The expressions "buys any goods" and "hires or avails any services" would include offline or online transactions through electronic means or by teleshopping or direct selling or multi-level marketing.

- (b) Establishment of the Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA) to promote, protect and enforce the rights of consumers, to investigate and intervene when necessary to prevent consumer detriment arising from unfair trade practices, and to initiate class action including enforcing recall, refund and return of products. Investigation Wing has also been set up under CPA. For false and misleading advertisements CCPA may issue a penalty upto 10 lakh on a manufacturer and endorser and includes online marketing. For a subsequent offence, the fine may extend to Rs 50 lakh. The manufacturer can also be punished with imprisonment of up to two years, which may extend to five years in case of every subsequent offence.

- (c) The pecuniary jurisdiction of adjudicatory bodies increased in case of District Commission to Rs 1 Crore, in case of State Commission between 1 Crore to 10 Crore and National Commission Above Rs 10 Crore. Further simplification of procedure for filing of complaints and online filing of complaints.

- (d) Provisions for "product liability" action for or on account of harm caused by or resulting from any product by way fixing the liability of a manufacturer to a claimant.

- (e) Provision for "mediation" as an alternate dispute resolution (ADR) mechanism which aims at giving legislative basis to resolution of consumer disputes through mediation, thus making consumer fora to facilitate quick disposal of complaints, power to review their own orders by the state and district commission, constitution of 'circuit bench' to facilitate quicker disposal of complaints, reforming consumer is an asset for any society. Discerning and demanding consumers assert for their rights and are not ready to make compromises on poor quality, substandard products and put pressure on businesses to provide safe and quality goods and services to them. Further, many new schemes have been started by the government to empower the Indian consumers. The cost and time involved in litigation is so much that ADR started by the government, especially mediation centres, in consumer forums would be helpful in quick disposal of consumer complaints. Hoping that the New Consumer Protection Bill, 2018 is immediately implemented which would take care of the short-comings in the Consumer Protection Act, 1986.

No initiatives taken by the government can be fruitful unless businesses start thinking like consumers, by understanding consumer buying behaviour and developing customer retention programs. It is believed that it is very difficult for businesses to look for new customers rather than retaining the existing ones. A satisfied customer is a key to reap profits. Therefore, maintaining good relationship with customers becomes imperative. The efficient and effective programme of consumer protection is of special significance to all of us since all of us are consumers. Even the marketer, producer or the service provider is a consumer of some other goods and services. Only alert consumers can protect themselves and the society.

The Constitution of India includes different provisions in the Fundamental Rights and Directive Principles of State Policy, which lay emphasis on expansion of public enterprise, avoid concentration of economic power in few hands and restriction of private monopolies, safeguarding the interests of the consumers of manufactured goods and producers of raw materials etc. to further the concept of welfare state. Thus consumer justice is a part of social and economic justice enshrined in the Constitution.

Following the Constitutional mandate, a number of laws have been enacted to protect the consumers. Some important ones are:

- Drugs Control Act, 1950;
- Prevention of Food Adulteration Act, 1954;
- Drug and Magic Remedies (Objectionable Advertisements) Act, 1954;
- Essential Commodities Act, 1955;
- Export Quality Control and Inspection Act, 1963;
- Monopolies and Restrictive Trade Practices Act, 1969;
- Standard of Weights and Measures Act, 1976;
- Prevention of Black-marketing and Maintenance of Supplies of Essential Commodities Act, 1980.

the process less cumbersome, simple and quicker. This will be done under the aegis of the consumer fora.

- (f) Several provisions aimed at simplifying the consumer dispute adjudication process in the consumer fora are envisaged. These include, among others, enhancing the pecuniary jurisdiction of the consumer disputes redressal agencies, increasing minimum number of members in the con-the process for the appointment of the president and members of the district fora, enabling provisions for consumers to file complaints electronically and file complaints in consumer fora that have jurisdiction over the place of residence of the complainant, and deemed admissibility of complaints if the question of admissibility is not decided within the specified period of 21 days.

“THE PRESIDENT'S RANGE AND DEPTH OF IDEAS IS IMMENSE”

VICE PRESIDENT RELEASES TWO BOOKS- 'THE REPUBLICAN ETHIC' & 'LOKTANTRA KE SWAR'

The Vice President of India, Shri M. Venkaiah Naidu has said that the President, Shri Ram Nath Kovind ji's range and depth of ideas is immense and as Head of the State, the First Citizen of our robust Republic, he represents the essence of the Nation - its vision, aspirations, expectations - and above all, essentially its ethos. He was addressing the gathering after releasing two Volumes - 'The Republican Ethic' & 'Loktantra Ke Swar', in New Delhi on December 8, 2018 with Selected Speeches of Hon'ble President of India, Shri Ram Nath Kovind ji. The books have been published by Publications Division.

The Vice President said that the cornerstone of Indian ethos may be summed up in these wise words - Ekam Sat Vipra: Bahudha Vadanti (एकम् सद् विप्राः बहुधा वर्दति) - Truth is one, wise men express it in many ways and this inclusiveness is the essence of India. Since the last fifteen months that Shri Kovind has been the President of India, he said he has been following his erudite addresses in which found an earnest call for inclusiveness.

The Vice President said that the building blocks of the Republican Ethic are equality, egalitarianism and education - themes dear to the President. These are the principles that motivated his unique journey from the mud house of a small village to Rashtrapati Bhawan, he added.

The Vice President said that the President's vision and thoughts have covered a wide range of issues of national and international importance with a special focus on the challenges which India faces in the contemporary world. But, most importantly he speaks the heart of a common man, he added.

Shri Naidu congratulated the Ministry of Information & Broadcasting and the Publications Division, for bringing out these titles with a beautiful layout and design, that speaks to the young and old alike.

Saying 'The Republican Ethic' is an invaluable collection of the President's reflections on a host of contemporary challenges and issues confronting India and the world, the Vice President said that we have to realize the strength within each one of us and get our act together. We must usher in a new era of social, economic and cultural transformation where we move away from 'dreary desert sands of dead habit' as Gurudev Rabindranath had put it, he added.

The Vice President said that political parties must evolve a consensus on the Code of

Later, Information and Broadcasting Minister Col

Conduct for their Members both inside the Legislature and out of it. Otherwise people might soon lose faith in our political processes and institutions, he said. We need to have more persons in leadership positions who are mindful of not only of "Constitutional morality" but also of "Institutional dignity" and "Individual integrity", he added.

In her speech, External Affairs Minister Mrs. Sushma Swaraj said President Kovind's knowledge and command over diverse topics shine through his speeches. She said President Kovind is able to infuse the depth of knowledge inherited from country's ancient past in his speeches.
