PRADHAN MANTRI JAN DHAN YOJANA

A SCHEME THAT USHERED IN SOCIAL REVOLUTION

Dr. Ashwani Mahajan

'JAM' Trinity is the finest example of how technology can bring change in everybody's life. When Shri Narendra Modi took over as Prime Minister in May 2014, the economy was passing through a difficult phase. On the one hand, growth had slowed down and on the other, inflation was at its peak. It was a challenge for the new government. For a country inhabited by poor masses, food security is a major concern and that requires a huge food subsidy. And if the same is attempted by way of Public Distribution System (PDS), that required a huge government expenditure. According to erstwhile Planning Commission, to transfer a food subsidy to the intended beneficiaries of one rupee, government has to spend Rs. 3.85.

Similarly, though by allowing petrol and diesel prices to be out of administrative control, diesel subsidy had come down, but LPG subsidy continued to be a huge sum. Though, subsidies are an essential part of a social welfare State, however major concern was leakage in subsidies, which was needed to be plugged at any cost, to ensure that subsidies reach the real beneficiaries.

There was another issue, a large number of poor households (with limited financial resources) were almost untouched by the banking system. For financial inclusion, first task was to open their saving bank accounts without any deposit requirement (zero balance). That could be made possible by a push given by the government programme, namely, 'Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana' (PMJDY).

For targeted transfer of government subsidies, the essential requirement was that all beneficiaries of government subsidies must have bank accounts. Similarly, if financial remittances are essential part of modern businesses, they are equally needed for the poor too, in order to transfer money to near and dear ones. Now since tele-density in the country improved so much, transfer of funds is just a click away for masses.

For targeted delivery of subsidies, identification of beneficiaries has been a big issue and that was helped by 'Aadhar'. Therefore, one needs to look at Jan Dhan bank accounts, Aadhar and Mobile telephony in an integrated way to understand financial inclusion and targeted delivery of subsidies. This is what one calls JAM Trinity.

PMJDY

The objectives of PMJDY are ensuring access to financial services, like availability of basic Banking. Savings bank account, access to need based credit, remittance, insurance and pension facility to the excluded sectors, that is, weaker sections and low income groups, as enshrined in the documents of the scheme. It is notable that most of these accounts have been opened by nationalised banks. Though, the provision of opening zero balance accounts existed even earlier, however, even public sector banks never used to open such accounts. It was only after, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, took it as a campaign and instructions were issued to banks, that accounts could be opened in a big way. It is notable that on the very first day of this scheme more than 1.5

HOW TO CLEAR UPSC CIVIL SERVICES PRELIMS EXAM

Sachin Gupta

AS aspirants often go through interviews and articles of various toppers about their strategies for the UPSC Civil Services Exam but the mantra of the exam is to always build your own strategy. To take the best out of everything available around you is the first key ingredient of success. In the course of preparation, I approached different places/institutes for just getting what I feel best in them. So, from now onwards, look everything from your perspective, even this article also and evaluate whether it is right or not for yourself and build your own strategy.

Second most important thing, according to me, is evaluating oneself in course of preparation. Understand your strengths and weakness and work over it. For instance, after my first attempt I faced difficulty in getting good marks in my optional and decided to change it. After my second attempt I felt that I seriously needed to work hard on GS part as well, thereby I worked particularly over answer writing, which I found to be a game changer in this journey from Rank 575 to Rank 3.

Further, always believe that hard work is the ultimate key for success. This is the only thing we can bank upon throughout the journey of preparation. I have lived this journey through sheer hard work in different phases, even at times when I was engulfed with the negative feeling that whether, I will ever be able to clear this examination or not. Always be calm, be persistent in your goal and always remember and believe in the reasons why you want to be a Civil Servant in your tough phases. This approach will not only help you in crossing the barriers but also in coming out with flying colors.

And, the last but not the least ingredient is Self-Belief. Whenever you feel low, talk to your parents, mentors and well-wishers, try to get positive vibes from them. In the course of preparation we, many times, have self-doubt but that is normal. Try to get motivation from wherever you can. I understand our core aim is to clear the examination and it should be that way. But live this journey from the perspective of becoming a better human being and transforming oneself into a Change Agent. Have the self-belief that you will not only crack this examination but be the change that we all aspire in the society!

Strategy for Prelims

I hope that your preparation for the prelims will be going on

ADMISSION IN DELHI UNIVERSITY

Dr. Sheetal Kapoor

As soon as the Class XII results are declared, the hunt for good colleges and Universities by students in order to shape their future starts. The University of Delhi is one of the premier Universities of India and is known for its high standards in teaching and research and attracts eminent scholars from all over India. DU was established in 1922 with a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and research and is a role-model and path-setter for other Universities in the country. Its rich academic tradition has always attracted the most talented students who later on went on to make important contributions to the society.

The University had a modest beginning with just three colleges, two faculties

(Arts and Science) and about 750 students. DU has grown into one of the largest Universities in India. At present, there are 16 faculties, 86 academic departments, 77 colleges and 5 other recognised institutes spread all over the city.

DU Under Graduate Admissions:

Delhi University offers admissions to various undergraduate programmes through merit under the three-year UG programme structure. According to the DU Admission Committee the registration process for under graduate admission begins by the last week of April or first week of May. Since this year the portal for the merit based and entrance based UG courses has been integrated. The first cut off list would most likely come out in the second week of June. Candidates seeking admission in the undergraduate courses offered by DU can register online at the centralized UG admission portal. After registration, candidates would need their individual log-in IDs and passwords to fill the Delhi University 2018 application form. Candidates can apply in multiple programmes/courses through a single online registration form. No extra fee would be charged for choosing multiple programmes/courses. Registration for DU admission 2018 will be through central portal and no separate registration for entrance based courses is required. Thus, aspirants can register for all courses through the centralized admission portal.

crore such accounts were opened. This is a world record.

No Longer Zero Balance

Although initially the banks were allowed to open Jan Dhan accounts with zero balance, however, they are no longer zero balance now. Nearly Rs. 81 thousand crores have been deposited in these accounts, which is encouraging. To encourage deposits and other transactions in the Jan Dhan accounts and use of Rupay Card (indigenous debit card), the scheme stipulates that Personal Accidental Insurance under PMJDY shall be payable if Rupay Card holder has performed minimum one successful financial or non financial customer induced transaction at bank branch, Bank Mitra, ATM, POS, E-commerce etc. The scheme stipulates an overdraft facility of up to Rupees 5 thousand after satisfactory operation of bank account for 6 months. Apart from earning interest on deposit, an accidental insurance cover of rupee one lakh and life cover of Rupees 30,000 is provided under PMJDY. It is also provided that beneficiaries of government schemes will get Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT) in these accounts. Except cheque book facility, perhaps all banking facilities are available with Jan Dhan bank accounts. Even the facility of remittance of money to other bank accounts is also given in these bank accounts.

Mobile Banking

Though there is nothing new in using smart phones to conduct bank transactions, significant is the fact that PMJDY account holders can also avail the same facility of checking balance and transferring funds through a normal mobile phone. This makes banking transaction more affordable to the general public.

Direct Benefit Transfer

We understand that as a social welfare State, the government provides various types of subsidies to the general public, especially the weaker sections of the society. Earlier, food grains and other food items used to be distributed through Public Distribution System or Ration Shops. Similarly LPG gas used to be subsidised by mandating oil companies to sell LPG gas at a lower price and compensating the same by transferring equivalent amount to the oil companies. MNREGA wages also used to be distributed through contractors. Old age pensions and other social welfare benefits were also distributed through government network or agents. Most of the benefits never used to reach the beneficiaries fully. Opening of Jan Dhan accounts has resolved this problem. For sending direct benefit transfer to the real beneficiaries without leakages, the government needs two things. One, a bank account where the government could send the benefit and two, beneficiaries are so identified that there is no duplicity in benefit transfer.

After opening a large number of zero-balance Jan Dhan accounts, another requirement was that of identification of beneficiaries. Previous UPA government had introduced 'Aadhar', that is, provision of a 12 digit Unique Identification Number, to all residents of the country with figure prints and iris scan. However, the same could not be given legal status as Aadhar Bill could not be passed in the Parliament.

In the Budget Session of 2016, Parliament passed 'Aadhar' (Targeted Delivery of Financial and Other Subsidies, Benefits and Services) Bill, as a money bill. Safe passage of 'Aadhar' (Targeted Delivery of Financial and Other Subsidies, Benefits and Services) Bill was considered as a 'game changer'. Provision was made to give unique identity to all residents (including children) by assigning a 12 digit number on 'Aadhar Card'. The government considers that Aadhar is a good proposition, as with the help of Unique Identity (UID) of residents, financial subsidies and other public services could be targeted more efficiently. This was also felt that the apprehensions expressed about the assault on privacy could be taken care of by making appropriate statutory provisions. However, we must also understand that though 'Aadhar' Bill 2010 and 'Aadhar' (Targeted Delivery of Financial and Other Subsidies, Benefits and Services) Bill 2016 are seemingly no different from each other, there are number of dissimilarities between the two.

According to 'Aadhar' Bill 2016, if a person has resided in the country for 182 days or more, he/she is entitled to get an 'Aadhar Card'. According to this bill, a person is entitled to avail of a subsidy or a service from the government; he must either possess an 'Aadhar Card' or has applied for the same. These provisions were not there in 'Aadhar' Bill 2010. According to 'Aadhar' Bill 2016, information related to an Aadhaar number holder's fingerprints and iris scan shall not be published or displayed publicly, except for purposes specified by regulations. When authenticating an individual's identity, the UID authority cannot reveal information related to iris scan and fingerprints to the entity requesting for authentication. All these provisions were not there in 'Aadhar' Bill 2010. Therefore one can say that an attempt has been made to address the concerns about privacy in 'Aadhar' Bill 2016.

Earlier, when the concept of 'Aadhar Card' was brought in and later on Indian Unique Identity Authority (UIDAI) was given statutory recognition there was no clarity about the usage of the same. For general public, this was merely an easy way to get an identity card. Easy availability of 'Aadhar Card' without there being any proof of citizenship, gave rise to apprehensions that this instrument may provide legitimacy to the foreign intruders (especially from Bangladesh).

Thanks to the techniques and PMJDY, it is now possible to transfer the benefits of subsidy and other services directly to the bank accounts of the beneficiaries, without much cost. Earlier, because of hic-ups in opening a bank account and requirement of minimum balance, a poor person was unable to open an account. However, under Jan-Dhan Yojana, big number of new bank accounts have been opened with zero balance requirements.

Universal coverage of 'Aadhar' is possible in near future, especially after passage of 'Aadhar' Bill 2016. With almost universal coverage of bank accounts of households and Aadhar card, now it has become easier to transfer benefits, directly to the targeted population. This scheme may save billions of rupee, as now LPG subsidy, food Subsidy, MNREGA wages and many other benefits can reach the targeted beneficiaries without leakage.

How to clear...

in full swing and you might be going through the feeling of fear and lack of confidence. So, before you appear for the prelims, I will discuss here the strategies that I followed for Prelims. I would like to talk about some Do's & Dont's for the prelims examination.

● Don't change your own strategy: In the last 1 month before the exam try to restrict yourself to the resources and follow the simple mantra " Revise Revise and Revise"

● Previous year UPSC Papers: This is the only thing that I would suggest if any of the aspirants haven't solved them yet, do it . It will not only help you in understanding areas on which one needs to focus more in last one month but also it will improve elimination as well as help you in time management in the examination hall.

● Time Management in last one month: Prelims examination is on 3rd of June. Just try to make schedule for rest of the days. It will help you in two ways, firstly you will remain calm and confident that everything will be covered before you go into actual exam and secondly it increases your efficiency on daily basis. This is something that I realized, after doing mistakes and correcting it in my journey but follow it only if you feel it is right for you based upon your own strength and weakness.

● Health : Just take care of your health in last one month as it's the most crucial time and you may save 10-20 minutes or an hour at max by neglecting diet or exercise but if God forbid one gets sick, it can take away 3-4 days straight.

● During Examination: When you enter the examination hall, just say to yourself you are the best, I will definitely clear this. Believe me it works; it gives a sense of confidence and reduces performance pressure.

Further, fill all your particulars with extra caution. It might happen you might mark one or two questions wrong mistakenly even after knowing it (It happened with me twice). Don't panic and just try to focus on rest of the questions. Don't let one mistake spoil your entire paper.

Some Tips for Preliminary Examination

1) Make Mnemonics: It will help you in remembering factual information in the examination hall. For instance:

a. BaChPaN + MBA-To remember length of boundary india shares in decreasing order-Bangladesh, China, Pakistan, Nepal, Myanmar, Bhutan, Afghanistan.

b. PATNA : To remember Missiles under integrated program. Prithvi Agni Trishul Nag Akash

c. MBBS PAIN: Trick to Remember SAARC Countries- Maldives Bangladesh Bhutan Sri Lanka Pakistan Afghanistan India Nepal It works. It will really help you while preparing and remembering important facts.

2) Extreme options / Sweeping Statements are likely to be wrong: (Caution: It is not a rule but just a observation)

Rest I believe, everyone is working hard to crack this examination, might have planned out how to go about prelims this year.

Now I would like to discuss strategy for those of you who will be writing Prelims next year or thereafter:

First of all, the resources that I have referred during my preparation:

Ancient History: Old NCERT by RS Sharma

Medieval History: Old NCERT by Satish Chandra

Modern History: Old NCERT by Bipan Chandra and Spectrum

Art and Culture: NCERT 11th class book on Art & Nitin Singhania's notes

Polity: Indian Constitution at Work, Laxmikant

Economy: Mrunal's videos, NCERTs of Economics of Class 12th, Indian Economy Key Concepts by Sankarganesh

Geography: NCERTs, Rajtanil Ma'am lectures of Geography on Mrunal's Youtube Channel

Mapping: Orient Blackswan Atlas

Environment: Shankar's and GkToday Environment Module

Science: 11th and 12th NCERTs

Current Affairs: Vision and Insights Prelims Exclusive Magazines

These are the extensive resources that I followed in last 3 years and was able to crack it every time. But I would again like to flag - try to restrict resources you will be referring for examination and focus more on revision. Ultimately one needs to remember important facts or clear understanding of basic concepts in the examination to mark right option.

Making best out of various Resources: Again, I would like to highlight just try to find out best from different resources and stick to it. I took help of NCERT for revision sticky notes on important pages.

Sticking to the resources: While one is preparing for prelims, try to study in a holistic manner along with Mains preparation at least till 4 months before actual prelims examination. Try to go through all the NCERTs once for each subject along with one Standard book whichever you feel comfortable with. Moreover, don't get distracted with the amount of resources you will be flooded with on the internet and in the market. One may feel, that he/she will get extra things or can learn more by reading more, but in the end you have to remember that one should have atleast 2-3 revisions. Try to have concise notes on each topic even if you read from different resources by compiling best out of different resources at one place, so that you can revise twice or thrice before examination.

Short Notes: Try to make short notes and Mnemonics on different topics, it would really help you in revising at last moment in a swift manner. Just try to build concise things so that you can revise in a swift manner.

Importance of Test Series and Peer group: Further, try to build a good peer group, which can motivate you all throughout preparation. Peer group helps not only in making one efficient with competitive feeling but one can also get benefitted in understanding areas he/she is not comfortable. My peer group has helped a lot and in many instances when I was not good at certain topics. There will be many ups and downs, it is important to maintain continuity. For this, one can follow any one good test series. It can help in two ways , firstly scheduling as well as maintaining tempo of preparation all throughout. When you feel comfortable overall across the subjects, do solve previous 10 years prelims paper.

Time Management: This is one of the key areas. Here I would say, try to have a target plan for next 3-4 months and then divide it into monthly and weekly plans. Further based upon your schedule, divide it into daily targets. Let's say, one is working, he/she can put more things on weekends or on holidays and light on working days.

I have already written about last 15 days strategy which I feel is one of the most crucial phases in prelims examination. I wish you all the best for all your endeavors!
