IMPACT OF GOODS AND SERVICES TAX ON ECONOMY

Dr. S.P. Sharma & Ms. Kritika Bhasin

On 1st July 2019, the GST (Goods and Services Tax) completed its successful two years. During these two years, 36 GST Council meetings took place aimed at recommending Union and State government on various necessary amendments to GST framework to make it simpler and efficient and it is still a "work in progress".

Amid the global economic slowdown, India has established an attractive position in the world ecosystem. India has been among the fastest growing economies in the recent years and according to IMF, India has lucrative growth path ahead. This has been supported by India's progressive growth targets and the plethora of strategic reforms undertaken by the government, such as Make in India, Digital India, Jan Dhan Yojana, Start-up India, Ayushman

Bharat, 12 Mantra Package for MSMEs, among others. GST (Goods and Services Tax) is another such reform and could be called the biggest tax reform in the history of India, implemented with the unique ambition to bring the entire nation under the ambit of 'One Nation, One Tax' regime.

Implementation GST has made India attractive across the world and has created a common market for more than 133 crore people. GST was implemented on 1st July 2017, with tax slabs of 0%, 0.25%, 3%, 5%, 12%, 18% and 28%. Many indirect taxes on goods and services were merged into a single tax, right from manufacturer to consumer. Implementation of GST was a historic move and it complemented India's move towards the fastest growing economy in the world.

Implementation of GST rusted in increase in the government revenue vis-a-vis better tax compliance and reduced tax evasion, enabling greater control and facilitating efficient monitoring than the traditional taxation system. From the consumer point of view, the biggest advantages are in the terms of reduction in the overall tax burden on goods, free movement of goods from one state to another without stopping at state borders for hours for payment of state tax or entry tax and reduction in paperwork to a large extent.

At the time of implementation of GST, significant percentage of goods and services came under the ambit of highest tax slab of 28%. However,

CIVIL SERVICES (MAINS)- 2019: INSIGHTS ON ETHICS AND ESSAY PAPERS

S.B. Singh

For an exam with such a vast, unfathomable GS syllabus, the mains preparation must be built on a sound strategy. Equal command over all the papers i.e. the optional paper and all the four GS papers is extremely difficult. Therefore, it is prudent to be selective in choosing the papers where one can secure some lead in scoring marks. This is to say that, one must excel in some of the papers while managing at least average performance in other papers. This is a well acknowledged, time tested strategy which has been attested to even by the IAS toppers. One has to focus on those papers where there is a bigger comparative advantage vis-a-vis other competitors. In GS paper I, II and III, the difference of marks among the aspirants who are in race, is not very wide. Given the well known nature of the syllabus set out in these papers, its not so difficult to prepare on the areas that comprise these papers. In other words, in GS I, II and III, the syllabus is well known to all in its static as well as dynamic aspects, making the task relatively easier. But this is not so in case of the Ethics and Essay papers. These two papers don't have a definite syllabus. While essay has no syllabus at all, the ethics syllabus, at best is indicative and illustrative and not substantial.

This poses problems of a structured, well defined preparation of these two papers. But at the same time, this difficulty offers a big opportunity also. If everybody is struggling to manage essay and ethics due to its fluid nature, you can gain advantages in scoring higher marks in these papers if you have chosen the right path to prepare these two subjects. The variation of marks in these two subjects is more than other GS subjects. A sound preparation of the essay paper, for example can fetch 150-160 marks, which is not possible in other GS papers. The same can be said about the ethics paper also. Therefore, a wise choice is to focus on these two papers while ensuring good preparations in other papers as well.

ETHICS

The ethics paper, introduced just a few years ago in the mains exam is intended to test the moral, rational dimensions of your knowledge which remain untested in other GS papers which are information based. The entire paper, however, doesn't consist of ethical issues only, there are governance issues as well. As already stated, the ethics syllabus is just indicative. One has to create a syllabus and boundary for this paper by reflecting on the kind of questions that are being asked. Ethics

FIT INDIA MOVEMENT: A STEP TOWARDS HEALTHY INDIA

Mohit Mishra

A recent National Family Health Survey has revealed that 1 in 10 women and 1 in 7 men of age 15-49 are hypertensive. According to World Health Organization, India has the highest number of diabetics at 5.08 crores. 2.5 crore Indians suffer from cardiovascular diseases which amount to 60% of the global figure. A latest research 'Body Burden: Lifestyle Diseases' on the state of India's health has claimed that over 61 per cent of all deaths in India are due to lifestyle or non-communicable diseases (NCDs). Though India has improved its ranking on a global healthcare access and quality (HAQ) index from 153 in 1990 to 145 in 2016, however, it still ranks behind Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Brazil, Russia and South Africa and well below the global average. At a time when the global HAQ index average is 54.4, India's scored 41.2 (2016). This was 24.7 in 1990. The HAQ index was created on a study titled Global Burden of Disease. The number of overweight and obese people in India has doubled between 2005 and 2015. Among individuals aged between 15-49 years, 20.7 per cent of women and 18.6 per cent of men have been found to be overweight or obese. More than 10 per cent of the country's population over the age of 18 suffers from various kinds of mental illnesses. Unhealthy diet, high blood pressure, high blood sugar, high cholesterol, and overweight together contribute about a quarter of the total disease burden in India presently, as compared with a little over a tenth of the total disease burden in 1990; these are linked to lifestyle choices and hence are termed as lifestyle diseases.

Lifestyle Diseases

Lifestyle diseases are ailments that are primarily based on the day to day habits of people. Habits that detract people from activity and push them towards a sedentary routine can cause a number of health issues that can lead to chronic non-communicable diseases that can have near life-threatening consequences. These diseases include atherosclerosis, heart disease, stroke, obesity, type 2 diabetes, and diseases associated with smoking and alcohol and drug abuse. The young generation is getting more and more trapped with these non-communicable diseases because of unhealthy and inappropriate life style. Increasing job requirements, sedentary lifestyle and competitive living are making people prey to non-communicable diseases. People who eat a high calorie diet without adequate exercise are in greater danger of lifestyle disorders. There is a drastic increase in the incidence of long term and chronic diseases. Though the improvement in medical facilities, healthcare system, and sanitation have reduced the incidence of communicable and vector borne diseases like malaria and cholera, but lifestyle diseases are on the rise both in urban and rural areas. These non-communicable diseases, chiefly cardiovascular diseases (including heart disease and stroke), diabetes, cancer and chronic respiratory diseases are diseases of long duration and generally slow in progression. They are the major cause of adult mortality and illness worldwide.

Some of the most common type of lifestyle diseases are the following:

Obesity: It is a disease that involves an excess amount of body fat. Body mass index (BMI) is a tool that doctors use to assess if a person is at an appropriate weight for their age, sex, and height. The measurement combines height and weight. A BMI between 25 and 29.9 indicates that a person is carrying excess weight. A BMI of 30 or over suggests that a person may have obesity. Usually, obesity results from a combination of inherited factors, combined with the environment and personal diet and exercise choices. A diet that's high in calories, lacking in fruits and vegetables, full of fast food, and laden with high-calorie beverages and oversized portions contributes to weight gain. There are foods that tend to increase the risk of weight gain like fast foods, fried foods, such as french fries, fatty and processed meats, many dairy products, foods with added sugar, such as baked goods, ready-made breakfast cereals, and cookies foods containing hidden sugars, such as ketchup and many other canned and packaged food items, sweetened juices, sodas, and alcoholic drinks. The sedentary lifestyle, stress, lack of sleep, microbiome and lack of awareness are other factors that contribute to Obesity. It is estimated that India will have over 1.7 crore obese children by 2025 and stand second among 184 countries where the number of obese children are concerned.

Type II diabetes: Type 2 diabetes is the most common form of diabetes. It happens when blood sugar levels rise due to problems with the use or production of insulin. The condition arises when the insulin pancreas makes can't work properly, or the pancreas can't make enough insulin. Insulin is a hormone that regulates the movement of blood glucose, or sugar, into cells, which use it as energy. Type 2 diabetes is more likely to appear after the age of 45 years, but it can affect children and teens also. The condition arises when individuals have excess weight, do not do much physical activity, have high blood pressure or have a family history of type 2 diabetes. The major symptoms of the disease are weight loss, despite increased appetite and hunger, extreme thirst and dry mouth, frequent urination and urinary tract infections, fatigue, blurred vision, slow healing of cuts or wounds, numbness or tingling in hands and feet, itchy skin. Diabetes is a growing challenge in India with estimated 8.7% diabetic population in the age group of 20 and 70 years is driven by a combination of factors - rapid urbanization, sedentary lifestyles, unhealthy diets, tobacco use, and increasing life expectancy. Much of the diabetes burden can be prevented or delayed by behavioural changes favouring a healthy diet and regular physical activity.

Cardiovascular diseases:

Cardiovascular diseases are a collective of various kinds of heart ailments, stroke and diseases of blood vessels nourishing the limbs. Of them, coronary artery disease, also called ischemic heart disease - symptomised by the hardening of arteries - and strokes account for most deaths. Coronary artery disease (CAD), is a condition in which cholesterol, calcium, and other fats accumulate in the arteries that supply blood to the heart. Certain risk factors increase the chances of developing heart disease. More common heart disease risk factors include High cholesterol, Diabetes, Heart disease in a close blood relative, Obesity, High blood pressure and Smoking. The factors and choices that increase the risk of heart disease include: Eating a diet high in fat, Being impatient, aggressive, and/or competitive, Being physically inactive or Experiencing emotional distress. Some of the symptoms of heart disease may include: Jaw pain, Chest pain, Back pain (typically left-sided), Abdominal pain, Lightheadedness and Shortness of breath. A recent study has revealed that Cardiac ailments killed more Indians in 2016 (28%) than any Further, IGST is a component of GST, which is levied on all inter-state transactions of taxable goods and services with appropriate provisions for consignment or stock transfer of goods and services. Centre levies and collect IGST in lieu of GST and the same is shared between center and state. Inter-state dealer pays IGST after adjusting available input IGST, CGST and SGST on purchases. The IGST model was implemented to provide many benefits to the dealers in the form of uninterrupted ITC (Input Tax Credit) chain on inter-state transactions, absence of payment of tax or substantial blockage of funds for the interstate seller or buyer, reduction in inter-state transaction costs, competitive pricing, overall ease and efficiency in the system, among others.

GST Council was formed as an empowered and constitutional committee for making recommendations to the Union and State Government on issues related to Goods and Services Tax. The committee, as per Article 279A of the amended Constitution, is a joint forum of the Centre and the States and is chaired by the Union Finance Minister and other members are the Union State Minister of Revenue or Finance and Ministers in-charge of Finance or Taxation of all the States. Till date, 36 GST Council meetings have taken place to make GST a Good and Simple Tax. Some of the key announcements made during the GST Council Meetings are:

- ♦ To boost the residential segment of the real estate sector, it has been decided that:
- ♦ GST to be levied at effective GST rate of 5% without ITC on residential properties outside affordable segment; and
- ♦ GST to be levied at effective GST of 1% without ITC on affordable housing properties.

- ♦ Major decisions to give relief to MSME (including Small Traders) include:
- ♦ Increase in Turnover Limit for the existing Composition Scheme: The limit of Annual Turnover in the preceding Financial Year for availing Composition Scheme for Goods shall be increased to Rs 1.5 crore.
- ♦ Higher Exemption Threshold Limit for Supplier of Goods: There would be two Threshold Limits for exemption from Registration and Payment of GST for the suppliers of Goods i.e. Rs 40 lakhs and Rs 20 lakhs.
- ♦ Composition Scheme for Services: A Composition Scheme shall be made available for Suppliers of Services (or Mixed Suppliers) with a Tax Rate of 6% (3% CGST +3% SGST) having an Annual Turnover in the preceding Financial Year up to Rs 50 lakhs.

- ♦ In order to give ample opportunity to taxpayers as well as the system to adapt, the GST Council in its 35th meeting announced that the new return system will be introduced in a phased manner and it also provided extensions of due dates of filings.

In addition, in the Union Budget 2019-20, the government proposed to move to an Electronic Invoice System for GST, wherein invoice details will be captured in a central system at the time of issuance. This will eventually be used to prefill the taxpayer's returns and hence, no need for a separate e-way bill. Its roll out would begin from January, 2020. This will significantly reduce the compliance burden on the tax payers.

Impact of Changes in Composition of GST

Goods under GST are categorized according to the GST tax slabs. At the time of implementation of GST, i.e. July 2017, maximum goods (453) were put under the slab of 18%. The scenario remains the same, as now also, the maximum numbers of goods (608) lie under the slab of 18%. However, the drastic change can be seen in the category of highest tax slab of 28%. The number of goods in this tax slab decreased from 228 at the time of implementation to only 36, giving a big relief to the consumers. The other tax slabs of 0%, 5% and 12% recorded an increase in the number of goods under their ambit from 149, 263 and 242 in July 2017 to 164, 321 and 285 in March 2019, respectively.

GST tax slab of 18% accounts for around 41% of goods under its ambit as of now as compared to around 33% at the time of implementation of GST. The second highest share of goods falls under the category of 5% tax slab, whose share has increased from around 19% in July 2017 to 22% in March 2019. Category of 12% and 0% recorded a slight change in their share of goods over the same period and reached to 19.3% and 0.3% respectively, as on March 2019. The maximum change has been made in the tax slab of 28%. The share of goods under this slab has come down to only 2% as in March 2019 from around 18% at the time of implementation. The following graph of 'GST reform curve' reflects the change in the GST tax structure over the time span of more than one year.

IMPACT OF GOODS AND

Incidence of GST has reduced from around 14% at the time of implementation (July 2017) to less than 12% as on March 2019. The incidence of GST has decreased due to shifting of goods in lower tax slabs following the recommendations of GST Council meetings.

Impact of GST on Inter-State Movement of Goods

All over India, traders and manufacturers have been benefitted from the implementation of GST as the inter-state movement of goods has become significantly smooth. The GST has removed the cascading effect of taxes, which has sufficiently reduced raw material costs and the production costs. GST has given traders and manufacturers freedom to choose the vendors, suppliers, among others with the best prices irrespective of the location as the GST rate is same everywhere in the country and requires very minimal paperwork. This has resulted in the increase in efficiency and sales.

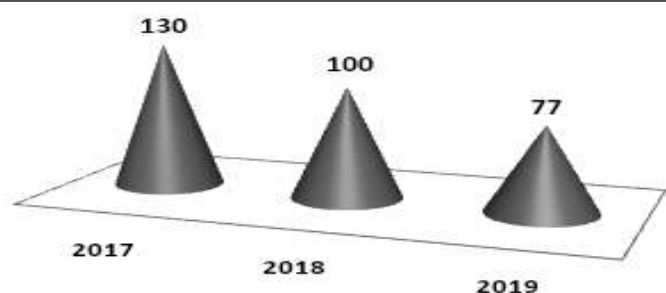

Further, more than 50% of logistics efforts and time is saved as GST has ensured removal of multiple checkpoints and permits at state border checkpoints. This has resulted into more road hours and faster delivery; thus increasing labour efficiency. Additionally, relatively easier procedures and low costing due to GST have resulted into competitive pricing and economies of scale. This has made the manufacturers and traders more competitive and increased their profitability.

Impact of GST on the Revenue of the Government

The tax revenue collection of the government through GST has been increasing year on year. The monthly average collection in the FY2017-18 was recorded at Rs. 89,825 crore, which increased to Rs. 98,114 crore in FY2018-19 and to Rs. 1,04,044 in 2019-20. The total gross GST revenue collected in the month of May, June and July 2019 stands around Rs. 1 lakh crore each, while in April, 2019, revenue collection stood at Rs. 1.13 lakh crore, which was the highest recorded collection since GST implementation. GST has resulted in increase in tax base and rise in collections, as the indirect tax payers base has increased by more than 50% since the enactment of GST, specifically due to large increase in voluntary registrations.

Impact of GST on Ease of Doing Business

GST has also led to ease of doing business, as the returns are now fully online and e-way system is in place, which has reduced the interface between the tax payers and government for day-to-day operations and assessments. The introduction of e-way bills has also led to decrease in transportation cost and logistic costs. GST has brought in improvement in the whole ecosystem comprising of IT setup, procurement, supply chain, exports, billing patterns, paying taxes, among others, thus being an enabler of ease of doing business.

Conclusions and Recommendations

GST has impacted and brought about improvement in all sections of society and all sectors of the economy and has helped India to achieve the position of world's fastest growing economy. The implementation of GST is highly appreciable as it has reduced the barriers between states and made India a common market. Increased tax revenues and reduced transaction costs for businesses would go a long way to increase efficiency of the economy and competitiveness of businesses. As the teething problems of GST are over, the economy is expected to scale higher growth trajectory in the coming times.

Going ahead, petroleum products must be brought under the ambit of GST to remove the cascading of taxes such as excise duty, central sales tax including value added tax. There is a need to remove 18% and 28% slab rates and categorize only two main rates under GST i.e. 5% and 12% instead of four. Further, address the complexities in GST Form by making it simpler and rational. In addition, there must be improvement in logistics and infrastructure scenario to further reduce the transaction costs. The government's efforts towards further liberalization of the GST norms, ease in procedures, shift of goods into lower tax slabs, among others are expected to result in promotion of ease of doing business, boost in manufacturing of goods, increase in price-cost margins of manufacturers and generation of employment opportunities.

other non-communicable disease. It claimed that about 5.45 crore people were affected by the disease in 2016 compared to 2.57 crore in 1990.

High Blood Pressure: High blood pressure is a medical condition in which the long-term force of the blood against your artery walls is high enough that it may eventually cause health problems, such as heart disease. High blood pressure does not usually cause symptoms. Very high blood pressure can cause headaches, blurred vision, nosebleeds, difficulty breathing, chest pain, irregular heartbeat, blood in the urine, confusion, or pounding in the chest, neck, or ears. According to a recent research paper, one in five young adults in India has high blood pressure, that equates to around 8 crore people, which is more than the entire UK population.

Fit India Movement

On the occasion of National Sports Day on 29th August this year, Prime Minister Narendra Modi launched the Fit India Movement. The objective of this initiative is to make fitness the lifestyle of the people of the country. It endeavors to bring about behavioural change and introducing basic fitness practices in the daily lives of Indians, a majority of whom lack access to sports or fitness infrastructure in their neighbourhoods. Some of the essential features of the movement are walking 8-10 kilometers daily, focus on curbing cardiovascular disease & laziness, decreasing hypertension, diabetes, cholesterol and decreasing cancer level, and to unite and set a common goal for whole country. The movement is a joint effort of the various ministries including Sports, Human Resource Development, Panchayati Raj and Rural Development.

The Prime Minister said that 'Fit India Movement' should become a national goal and its aspiration. He said, Success is related to fitness, success stories of all of our icons from any field of life have a common thread- most of them are fit, have a focus on fitness and are fond of fitness. The Prime Minister said, "Technology has reduced our physical ability and has robbed us of our daily fitness routines and today we are unaware of our traditional practises and lifestyle which could keep us fit. With time, fitness has been relegated a lower priority in our society. Earlier a person used to walk or cycle for kilometers, today mobile apps have to tell us how many steps we walked".

"Today lifestyle diseases are on a rise in India affecting even the young. Cases of diabetes and hypertension is on the rise and even common among children in India. But small lifestyle changes can prevent these lifestyle diseases. 'Fit India Movement' is an effort to bring these small lifestyle changes", the PM said.

The Prime Minister said that people in any profession can make themselves efficient in their profession if they are mentally and physical fit. If body is fit, then you would be mentally fit. Sports has a direct relation to fitness but 'Fit India Movement' aims to go beyond fitness. Fitness is not just a word but an essential pillar to a healthy and prosperous life. When we prepare our bodies for battle, we make the country strong as iron. Fitness is part of our historic legacy. Games and sports are played in every nook and corner of India. While working on the body they also train the mind, increasing focus and coordination of body parts. A healthy Individual, a healthy family and a healthy society are the essentials to make New India a Fit India.

The Prime Minister had made the announcement of Fit India launch on 'Mann Ki Baat' on August 28. The Prime Minister said that we have to keep ourselves fit and make the nation also fit. The Fit India Movement will be for all men, women and children.

A 28-member committee has been constituted under the chairmanship of sports minister Kiren Rijju to advice government on 'Fit India Movement'. It has 12 members from the government, including secretaries of Sports, Secondary Education, Ayush, Youth Affairs, among others. IOA President and seven NSF heads, including those of boxing, athletics, football and cycling, are also a part of the committee. Representatives of private bodies such as Confederation of Indian Industries (CII), Reliance Foundation, JSW Cement and JSW Paints, SE TransStadia Pvt. Ltd., Tata Trusts, ASSOCHAM India, Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce & Industry (FICCI), and actors Shilpa Shetty and Milind Soman will also be involved. World Badminton champion PV Sindhu, sprinter Hima Das, wrestlers Bajrang Punia and Sakshi Malik and several other sports icons have supported Mr. Modi's campaign. A special focus of the campaign is on rural India that lacks basic facilities to improve physical well-being and awareness of fitness. The University Grants Commission (UGC) has asked affiliated higher educational institutes to prepare and implement an institutional fitness plan incorporating sports/exercises/ physical activities for fitness, into the daily routine. The commission has also asked institutes to encourage every person to walk 10,000 steps. They have also been told to upload their fitness action plans on UGC's "Fit India Movement Portal" which is under development. The Fit India Movement will also encourage Indian classical and folk dances. The various forms of dances in our country would be linked with the fitness campaign. Social media platform are being used to put out stories of local icon who are fit and healthy.

requires reflection on affairs which we witness on day to day basis. Observing those affairs with an ethical perspective can provide vital inputs to the syllabus. To cite an example, if we observe why many laws have lower compliance rate in India, we must dwell on the issue of compliance beyond the provisions of the law. It is the internalisation of the value behind the law that brings greater compliance, not the law itself. Since we have not internalised the values behind, say, dowry law, it is not complied with by society. Similarly, one has to find a nexus between policy and attitude. Govt policies on prohibition can not be successful unless, there is an attitudinal change in society on this social and health issue. Another example is corruption in India. Despite having a slew of laws, corruption remains embedded in our country because of a tolerant social attitude towards it. Therefore, there is a need to transform peoples' attitude on corruption beginning early in life, through education and socialisation process, to beat down corruption. Laws alone can not root out corruption. If this format is followed, it gets easier to attempt questions on ethics in the expected manner.

Explaining Ethics Syllabus: In all, there are seven chapters in this paper. It is extremely important to make sense of the syllabus in terms of its scope, coverage and question patterns. The first chapter is the core of this paper which requires basic knowledge of the fundamentals of ethics. A general background of ethics in its historical perspective, its interface with human lives, i.e. how it has a close relationship with our conduct and behaviour based on certain standard norms, should be the starting point in this chapter. Then, the essence of ethics, its various dimensions, and its determinants are to be covered in such a way that one acquires the true significance of ethics, as also, its social, professional, personal, economic, environmental dimensions. Determinants of ethics like religion, customs, law, social values, which are responsible for making ethics what it is, must be studied briefly. Next, a lot of stress should be given on applied ethics which is also known as practical ethics. The following aspects of applied ethics deserve careful preparation.

1. Environmental ethics
2. Bioethics- abortion, surrogacy, euthanasia, reproductive technology, human cloning, cryonics
3. Medical ethics
4. Media ethics
5. Business ethics
6. Corporate ethics
7. Animal ethics
8. Sports ethics
9. Ethics of artificial intelligence
10. Law and ethics

Every year, questions are being asked on one or more of these applied aspects. While preparing on these applied aspects, one must acquire a working definition of the terms, and quote current examples in the answer. To cite an example, in business ethics, one must cite Gandhi's views and then give examples like the Nirav Modi, Vijay Mallya, Satyam computer episodes, which are all ethical failures in business models. Similarly, in medical ethics, one must quote the unethical practices like unrequired investigations, diagnosis, treatment etc. Also, examples like the Johnson & Johnson Hip transplant controversy must be given. This makes your answer look close to reality. In corporate ethics, CSR, TBL (triple bottom line) concepts must be emphasized and they must be linked with Gandhi's concept of trusteeship. Like this, in every applied aspect, one should co-relate issues as given in these examples.

On human values and the role of family, society and educational institutions in imparting these values, one must take into account the views of Dalai Lama, Pope Francis, Vivekananda, Abdul Kalam etc.

There is also a topic on moral thinkers from India and abroad. I would suggest to cover the following thinkers.

Indian thinkers: Buddha, Mahavira, Kabir, Guru Nanak, Kautilya, Gandhi, Ambedkar, Vivekananda, Tagore, Sri Aurobindo. In addition, one must also know about the makers of modern India like, Patel, Nehru, Sreedharan, Verghese Kurien.

Foreign thinkers: Aristotle, Plato, Mill, Bentham, Rawls, Kant, Confucius.

There are two chapters relating to social psychology viz; Emotional intelligence and attitudes, social influence and persuasion. Their definitional parts can be covered through a close reading of the NCERT psychology books of 11th, 12th standard. But one has to further build upon these topics by relating them to their role in administration. One should probe their role in administration i.e. how attitudes, emotional intelligence can determine responsiveness in administration. There are two separate chapters in the ethics syllabus which broadly deal with ethical issues in public services. While one requires acquaintance with terms like, probity, integrity, accountability etc. in governance, the other takes up real issues like RTI, corruption, utilisation of public funds, citizens' charter, delivery of services etc. For these, reference must be made to ARC II Report no. 4 on "Ethics in Governance".

The most troubling part of the ethics syllabus, is the case study section. In all, six case studies are given in section B of the ethics question paper. The purpose of case study is to test problem solving ability of a candidate in a rational manner and based on certain moral, ethical principles. A case study must be written keeping the following elements in mind. www.Jobriya.com

1. The issues that need to be resolved in the given case study
2. Whether the issue has only a legal angle, or it has moral, ethical dimensions also
3. Whether consultation with other colleagues, seniors, agencies are required to solve the issue
4. The solution provided should be practical, workable and not theoretical and complex
5. One should only solve the given case and not offer comments on future solutions and policies unless they are specifically asked in the case study
6. The solution must be in larger public interest

The use of charts, diagrams should be, as far as possible, avoided. Though the word limit for each case study is 250 words, It would be better to confine it to 200 words. Or else, it will be difficult to complete the entire paper in just three hours. No penalty shall accrue due to writing them in under 200 words because the word limit is only indicative, not mandatory.

Needless to say, ethics is a subject loaded with specific terms. One must use these terms extensively in the answer. Terms like accountability, responsibility, public trust, transparency, probity, integrity etc. must be used in the answers appropriately.

ESSAY

The essay paper, unlike the GS papers, seeks to assess the flow of ideas on a given topic in an unrestricted manner. In other words, the entire thought process, inner feelings, intuitions, must be reflected in the essay writing. It should not be just loaded with information on the topic, but also with views and counterviews. The language, expressions used in the essay answer must be forceful, dramatic, in order to make a strong presentation of ones' viewpoint. In an essay, all dimensions must be laid bare. For example, if one is writing an essay on women empowerment, its social, economic, political dimensions must be treated substantially. www.Jobriya.com

An essay has three parts, viz; introduction, main body, and conclusion. The introduction is the most important part of an essay because it gives a clue to what you are going to say in the next paragraphs and what stand you have taken on the topic.

An ideal essay should consist of 1000-1200 words. The introductory paragraph should consist of 175-200 words. The main body should comprise 5-6 paragraphs, each of 150- 160 words. The conclusion should be slightly shorter than the introduction, say, 150 words. In the main body, each paragraph should be arranged in such a manner that the theme of your topic goes forward in a systematic manner. It should not be randomly arranged. Besides, each paragraph should deal with just one part of the theme. It should focus on one aspect of the topic instead of too many. Quotations, anecdotes should be written if the context justifies them. An essay is a continuous flow of ones' thought process. Therefore, no sub headings should be given. Just change of paragraphs will do. Secondly, use of charts, diagrams should be avoided as it does not fit in well with the scheme of essay writing. Thirdly, underlining of sentences, words should also be minimised, or still better, avoided, because this may distract the examiner and possibly, irritate him too. Finally, there is no necessity to defend the stand taken in the essay topic, one can take an opposite view also, provided one can defend ones' arguments coherently. Alternatively, one can also take the middle path, taking both view points on a given topic.
